

Introduction

College Report

Phase two of the Annual Program Review Process is the college report that is generated after the review. This occurs after the completion of the program reports by staff and faculty within the programs. The next step is to develop a report from the college level using the submitted reports as well as discussions with program personnel. These reports will help guide conversations between the colleges and the Office of the Provost in fall meetings centered around continuous improvement. At this point, you should have received the program reports from IRAA. If you haven't, please reach out for assistance.
